

Our client is a global design and innovation firm with more than 150 ambitious employees from 30 different nations, with a vast range of skills, cultural backgrounds and experiences. They create brand experiences and design innovative products and services for brands worldwide. Their passion is to transform ideas into realities. Brands worldwide trust them to sharpen, shape and create their future, delivering on their brand's unique values.

To grow their international Digital & Innovation team further we are looking for an experienced

DIGITAL DIRECTOR | SERVICE & INNOVATION (m/w)

Responsibilities:

- Leadership and development of a digital team of 20-30 employees
- Management of an innovative department providing in-depth technical know-how and delivering cutting edge products and services
- Strategic consultation and expertise both for clients and internal teams to provide guidance and manage digital topics and projects
- Long-term goal: Building of a development team parallel to design
- Integrating function and strategical contact person for the internal digitalisation
- Management of a dynamic and rapidly growing profit center focusing on
 - digital communication and digital business solutions
 - connected products and innovation design

Requirements:

Candidates should have a huge passion for digitalization and digital transformation. The ideal person has a degree in studies related to technology, design or business with a strong focus on digitalization. The candidate has gained several years of profound leadership experience in an agency or industry area focusing on digital products or services.

Please send your CV and portfolio (pdf or link) to NAKAMA GERMANY.